

ADVERB CLAUSES

- Adverb clauses are dependent clauses; they cannot stand alone.
- You will always have two subjects and two verbs in a sentence that uses an adverb clause
- An adverb clause can come before or after the dependent clause, but the punctuation is different for each position
 - BOBUB at the beginning – use a comma at the end of the clause
 - BOBUB in the middle - no comma
- Remember this group with BOBUB IS WA WA WA
